

Fire Management and Research in the Southwest: A Flagstaff, AZ workshop for the Southwest Fire Science Consortium

Northern Arizona University
DuBois Conference Center - Meadows Room
Jan 20th, 2009

Travel Grants Available!
Lunch Provided

8:30	Start
8:30-8:40	Intro/Logistics
8:40-9:10	Joint Fire Science Program Introduction/Questions and Answers
9:15-9:45	A research and management perspective: Ecological guidelines for thinning and burning pinyon/juniper woodlands
9:45-10:15	Break
10:15-10:45	Panel : Research Needs for Fire in the Southwest
10:45-11:00	Audience Participation
11:00-11:30	A research and management perspective: Landscape level herbicide treatments to control cheatgrass in Zion National Park
11:30-12:30	Lunch (Provided)
12:30-1:00	Panel: Technology Transfer. How do we make it work?
1:00-1:15	Audience Participation
1:15-1:45	A research and management perspective: Fort Valley and the Greater Flagstaff Forest Partnership
1:45-2:15	Break
2:15-2:45	Panel: What can a SW Fire Science Consortium do for you?
2:45-3:00	Audience Participation
3:00-4:30	What is the SW Fire Science Consortium going to do? (Presentation and Brainstorming)
	<ol style="list-style-type: none">1. Structure and Governance2. User Communities3. Planned Activities4. Program Effectiveness