

Proposal for fire science information exchange

Please provide the following information in a separate document. Submit the proposal electronically to swfireconsortium@gmail.com. Contact Barb Satink Wolfson with any questions at 928-523-1148 or swfireconsortium@gmail.com.

Contact Information

Include name, affiliation, address, phone, and email.

Proposed format

Indicate which information exchange format you are proposing. This includes a working paper, a webinar, or a Wildfire Lessons Learned video and story. See the bottom of this document for a description of formats.

Description of content

In one or two paragraphs, provide a short description of the content that will be the subject of the proposed information exchange format.

Description of formats

Lessons Learned Videos: The Consortium will partner with the Wildland Fire Lessons Learned Center to produce videos and stories on research and management projects in the Southwest. The Consortium will provide topics, contacts and information to the center. The center will produce 2 stories a year under the "Advances in Fire Practice" section about projects specific to the Southwest. For examples see www.wildfirelessons.net.

ERI Working Papers: The Consortium will join forces with the Ecological Restoration Institute in developing two "working papers" per year. The Consortium will be responsible for researching and summarizing topics. Papers will be edited by the ERI staff editor and made available as electronic documents on the ERI and Consortium websites. For examples see www.eri.nau.edu.

Webinars: We plan to develop four webinars a year to present research findings in the Southwest. We will encourage Consortium members to present webinars on work and research they are doing. The Consortium will host the platform and give logistical support. Webinars will be archived for access on the Consortium website (www.forestguild.org/SWconsortium.html).